Fire Sprinkler Monitoring Devices, Waterflow Detectors ...

Waterflow detectors monitor the flow of water to sprinkler heads. Supervisory switches help prevent tampering or incorrect setting of valve controls. Pressure switches indicate a discharge from a sprinkler. All three also come in explosion-proof versions for hazardous environments.

What is a Waterflow Switch? - Douglas Krantz

A waterflow switch is the interface between the building's fire suppression system and the building's fire alarm system. It detects water flowing in the sprinkler system and causes the fire alarm system to sound the evacuation. When the building sprinkler system activates, the waterflow switch has three main functions:

What is a Flow Switch or Water Flow Detector in a Fire ...

A water flow detector, commonly produced by System Sensor, is an electro-mechanical device designed to send an alarm to a fire alarm panel and/or fire department when a continuous flow of water occurs through the fire sprinkler system's piping from an activated sprinkler head or leak in the system.

Operation ...

A flow switch will also operate in the affected section of the fire sprinkler system, indicating the location of the water flow. (In the case of a multi-storey building there is typically one flow switch per floor). The flow switch will indicate its location a fire indicator panel (but may not call the fire brigade).

How to calculate a fire sprinkler system

The first step is to calculate the minimum flow which will be required at the most remote sprinkler which in this case is at node [130], this is a two-step process as will need to calculate the minimum flow required to satisfy the 7.50 mm/min design density and then find the flow rate from the sprinkler given the sprinklers minimum pressure
